

"Boat Companion has been with me every step of the way through the process of identifying and searching for the right powerboat. I can move forward with confidence knowing that when we find the right vessel, Boat Companion will be there to guide me through the purchasing, kitting out and training process." Mark Ingham, Boat Companion client (Rinker 270 Fiesta or Rinker 300 Express)

DEDICATED LEISURE CRAFT ACQUISITION AGENT

“Purchasing a boat can be stressful, costly and fraught with problems. It does not necessarily have to be like that and should be a fun and exciting process.”

It may be that you are new to the water, or an experienced seaman who does not have the time to search the multitude of brokers and private ads for the best the market has to offer. Viewing boats can also be time consuming and disappointing. Equipment may be damaged, outdated or of a low quality. Boat companion will visit boats on the client’s behalf to ensure customers time is only spent viewing boats that meet client specification.

Boat Companion will also manage the survey and purchase process and can advise on many issues from transportation to MCA coding and recommended safety equipment.

The company is not associated with any Broker and can therefore focus on the needs and requirements of the purchaser ensuring the best possible deal and the smoothest route to getting on the water
